

A MUCH-AWAITED RETURN TO ASIA

From 23 to 25 May, Vinexposium is staging a major comeback in Asia with Vinexpo Asia in Singapore, one of the four Asian dragons. The industry's largest BtoB event is all-set to gather wine and spirits professionals for a three-day 100% business reunion in the very heart of the Asia-Pacific region.

In the unique setting of the Marina Bay Sands, Sands Expo & Convention Centre, Vinexposium will be showcasing all the unique features that make it a potent player worldwide: an inclusive event for the wine and spirits industry attended by 1,000 international exhibitors poised to welcome the 8,000 visitors due to attend.

Mirroring the international momentum successfully created by the Vinexposium group around the world, Vinexpo Asia is travelling to Singapore for three outstanding days of engagement and business meetings in the heart of this promising market.

VINEXPO ASIA, AN AMAZING OPPORTUNITY"

After a 4-year absence, can you tell us what to expect from Vinexpo Asia 2023?

Vinexpo Asia 2023 is an event where people will be able to reunite. It's an amazing opportunity to see each other and get acquainted again! After 4 years marked by COVID-19 and the absence of any major event in the Asia-Pacific region, Vinexpo Asia is occurring at a pivotal moment for the resumption of international trade.

Vinexpo has a presence in the region spanning over 20 years with the first Vinexpo Asia held in Hong Kong in 1998, giving the event genuine credentials. It has become popular, trustworthy and legitimate for the entire wine and spirits industry. It is now a major strategic event that is vital for all global stakeholders, bringing together buyers, importers and sommeliers from the growth markets across Asia.

Has the decision to locate the event in Singapore this year been properly understood?

The challenge very quickly became an obvious choice because Singapore is now one of the gateways into Asia. Its strategic location makes it a hub of regional and global trade and its business model revolves, among other things, around a very openminded approach to international trade.

Our desire to be a part of this movement and to benefit from this dynamic sales environment is fully understood by our customers. Singapore was the best opportunity we could offer them in 2023, at a key time for returning to Asia.

Also, hosting the event in the unique, iconic setting of Marina Bay Sands, in the heart of Singapore, is pivotal to the success of Vinexpo Asia 2023. The convention centre, which combines elegance and efficacy, is the ideal venue for a world class event such as ours.

Hence, to date, Vinexpo Asia is already full to capacity.

Which exhibitors have already registered?

Vinexpo Asia 2023 will bring together nearly 1,000 exhibitors and 35 different countries will be represented.

Obviously, France will be attending in numbers with all of its wine regions present but the exhibition will also welcome many international pavilions like Argentina, Australia, Chile, the United States and Italy. Spain, China, Portugal, Germany, Austria, South Africa, Switzerland, Japan, Ireland, New Zealand, the United Kingdom, Israel, Canada, South Korea, Romania, Slovenia, Thailand and Finland will also be represented. Vinexpo Asia will thus provide the opportunity to discover new wines and spirits and to meet producers aiming to establish a foothold or develop their presence in Singapore and across the whole of Asia.

How many visitors do you expect to attend?

8,000 visitors are due to attend Vinexpo Asia 2023 from 23 to 25 May, primarily from China, South Korea, Malaysia, Indonesia, Japan, Thailand and Vietnam.

They are local decision-makers, executives and managers of the largest import companies, wholesalers, hoteliers / restaurateurs, wine merchants and e-tailers. The vast majority of them are directly involved in selecting and purchasing wines and spirits. Vinexpo Asia is therefore a unique opportunity to establish and maintain robust relationships in a major region for business.

Do you offer any particular programmes for hosting buyers?

We provide a CLUB programme with a host of privileges and services granted to the largest industry buyers. We also implement solutions to facilitate attendance by very specific buyers from a selection of countries. For Vinexpo Asia, this is true of Australia, New Zealand, Hong Kong, Taiwan, Macau, China, South Korea, Malaysia, Indonesia, Japan, Thailand, Vietnam, the Philippines, the Middle East and India.

We also provide all buyers with turnkey business solutions to help them prepare their visit to Vinexpo Asia: pre-scheduled online appointments ahead of the event, mobile application, online catalogues and programme.

Vinexpo Asia is also renowned for its wide-ranging content. Can you tell us more about the highlights of this year's event?

Vinexpo Asia provides one of the most varied and prestigious programmes in the world as part of the Vinexpo Academy.

It will include masterclasses, of course, and the Major Tasting by the Union des Grands Crus de Bordeaux (UGCB) along with conferences hosted by prominent international experts.

Other very popular highlights on the programme include the Battle of the Sommeliers and the Vinexpo Challenge, organised in conjunction with the International Association of Sommeliers (ASI), along high-level wine and spirits masterclasses curated by international experts.

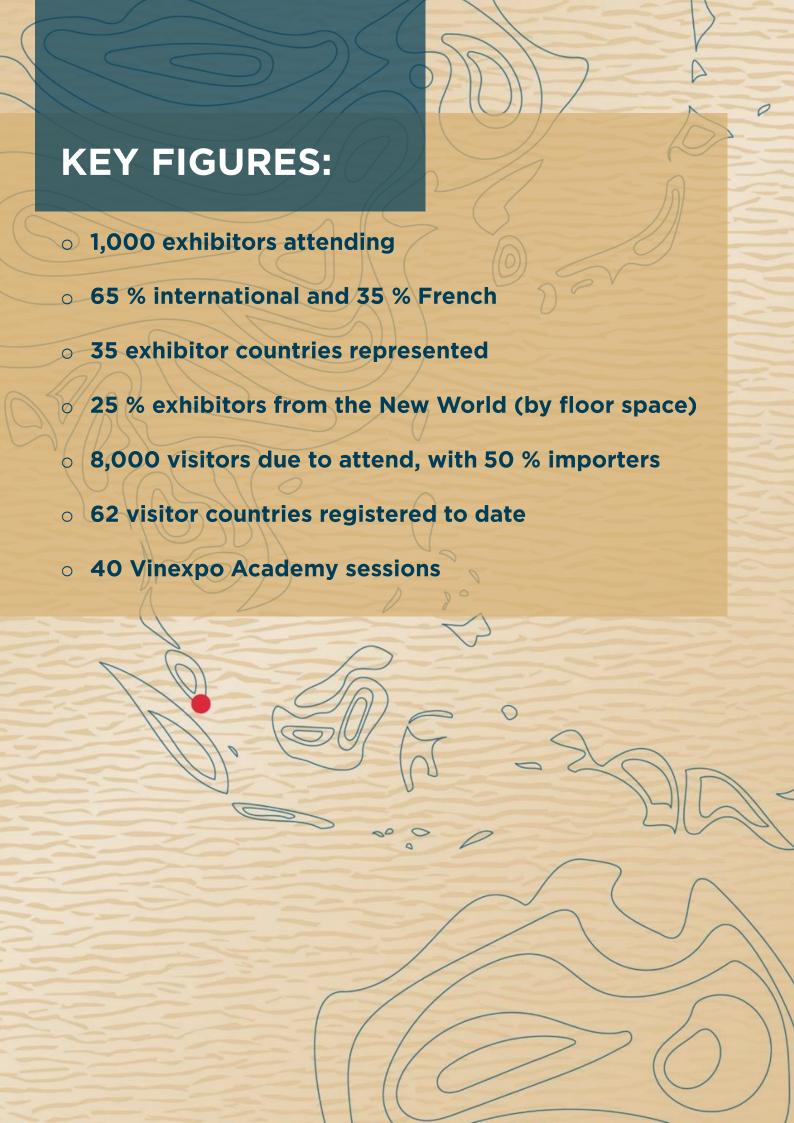

Lastly, through the alliance established between Vinexposium and Bettane + Desseauve to promote the global reach of the international wine and spirits industry, the Grand Tasting will be held the day before the exhibition opens. This festival of fine wines, now a key event, will add to the appeal of Vinexpo Asia by welcoming attendance by enlightened wine enthusiasts on Monday 22 May from 3pm to 10pm (open free of charge for industry members and the media from 3pm to 6pm, then for a fee to the public from 6pm to 10pm).

As you can see, we have very high ambitions for the latest Vinexpo Asia. The entire Vinexposium team and myself are delighted to be able to host an event of this magnitude in Asia and build on the resounding success of Wine Paris & Vinexpo Paris in February of this year.

This event offers the entire industry an opportunity to connect, share and enjoy a mutually enriching experience at a key time and in a positive, dynamic spirit!

By locating the exhibition in Singapore, a strategic crossroads for international trade, Vinexpo Asia reaches out to leading growth markets like Australia, South Korea, China and Hong Kong, Taiwan, Thailand, Vietnam, Malaysia, the Philippines, Singapore, Indonesia, New Zealand and Japan. Although each market has its own specific features, consumption of wines and spirits and the interest shown by the Asian public continue to increase, particularly in the premium category.

Fuelled by free trade agreements, Singapore, the world's second largest commercial port, acts as a focal point that is very conducive to trade. The city-state represents a very attractive market in its own right with a CAGR for 2021-2026 of 3.8 % for the beverage alcohol industry*. Singapore is also Asia's most buoyant region for the premium segment (42 % of sales). The cocktail and gourmet food scene there is particularly creative and dynamic, due to the remarkable network of bars and restaurants, many of which now feature among the world's top 500.

Likewise, China, Asia's leading economic power and the world's top red wine consumer for the past 10 years, has shown increased interest in wine over the past few decades, fuelled by the growth of the middle classes and consumer demand. This is borne out by the future Universal Wine Museum, due to open in Beijing in May 2024. Current noteworthy trends include the role of e-commerce, which plays a pivotal part in volume sales mainly due to new platforms like TikTok, Xiao Hong Shu and Pin Duo Duo. Also, premiumisation is favouring imported products.

Another partner within this free trade area is Japan, where fine wines continue to have a strong following, but more everyday wines are also growing, particularly among young consumers. Similarly, the Japanese are developing a new cocktail culture and appetite for Ready-to-drink beverages (RTDs).

In South Korea, where beer and spirits like soju are still the most popular alcoholic beverages, wine has successfully gained a foothold. Consumption is showing strong growth, particularly among women and the younger generations, who willingly turn to wines offering good value for money. South Korea's wine imports are posting outstanding growth, surging by 69% by value in 2021*.

Another prominent wine nation is Australia, which ranks 11th among wine consumer countries with a population of 25.7 million. Australians still have a soft spot for French wines, which lead the way for imports, ahead of New Zealand, with 20.2 m litres imported worth €267 m and a market share of 43.5 % by value**.

In Asia, the market for wines and spirits is expanding with increased demand for high quality imported products.

AN INITIATIVE LED BY 3 PREMIER ORGANISATIONS

CALIFORNIA: 249,000 hectares of vineyards | 147 wine regions | 4,800 wineries | 5,900 grape growers | 110 grape varieties | 279.3 m cases sold annually | California is committed to and implements noteworthy initiatives aimed at developing responsible winegrowing.

The world's fourth-largest wine producer, California truly is the golden state for wine. From the cool coastal areas to the warmer valleys, the amazing year-round Californian climate is just as good for growing wine as it is for welcoming visitors.

"California is proud to be included in the Country of Honor for this inaugural Vinexpo Asia event in Singapore. As a region, Asia is a critical part of California wine's future growth and success, and Vinexpo Asia provides a unique opportunity for our wineries and vintners to build their business in these vibrant and developing markets".

• OREGON: 16,500 hectares of vineyards | 23 wine regions | 1,058 wineries | 1,411 grape growers | 72 grape varieties | 5.3 m cases sold annually.

A diverse region ripe for adventure, Oregon wears its wild, audacious heart on its sleeve. From coastal mountains to valley slopes to river gorges, once you're here there's no going back without part of its wonder alive inside you.

• WASHINGTON: 24,000+ hectares of vineyards | 20 wine regions | 1,050+ wineries | 400+ grape growers | 80 grape varieties | 17+ m cases sold annually.

With its northern latitude and a growing season that sees up to 17 hours of sunlight a day, Washington's geography and climate deliver a perfect balance of New World fruit with Old World structure.

A collective approach promoting the variety of wines from the American West in Asia.

Visitors are also readying to attend and are extremely enthusiastic about the major return of Vinexpo Asia to the region:

- Vinexpo is an excellent and very well-organised fair with very high standards. As a professional wine e-commerce company in China, we have to attend Vinexpo Asia in Singapore and look forward to meeting the wine and spirits industry there", Song Jin, General Manager of WAJIU China, BtoB e-commerce platform and one of the largest importers in China.
- We are glad to hear about the Vinexpo Asia edition and we are planning our trip already. Vinexpo is a great fair and very useful for our company to meet existing and new suppliers. It will be good to catch up with them after all these years without travelling because of Covid", Teiva Couraud, Procurement and Overseas Logistics Manager for Omtis Fine Wines, Hong Kong.
- Good spot for all of us working in Asia only a few hours away. Superb airport, good transportation within the city-state.", Bence Petho, buyer for Valentine VM Wines CO. Ltd, Thailand.
